HOA Annual Meeting Kit

A week-by-week checklist, a notice of annual meeting, and an agenda

BUILT FOR
HOA boards

COMPANION GUIDE
How to Prepare for Your HOA Annual Meeting

UPDATED
September 2026

Fill in the fields as you go. The checklist dates itself from your meeting date, and the notice and agenda build themselves from what you enter. Print it, save it as a PDF, or copy the notice into an email.

How to use this kit

1. Fill in the rules worksheet first, from your bylaws, declaration, and state law.
2. Enter your meeting date and notice window. The checklist fills in planning targets for each stage.
3. Fill in the notice and agenda sections. Anything left blank stays highlighted, so nothing slips through.
4. Have your association's attorney review the notice before it goes out.

BEFORE YOU START

Every legal requirement in this kit is a blank on purpose. Notice windows, delivery methods, quorum, proxies, and voting rules vary by governing documents and state law, and in some states a statute overrides the documents. Your documents, state law, and your association's attorney supply them.

01 Annual Meeting Checklist

MEETING DATE

SEND NOTICE NO EARLIER THAN

SEND NOTICE NO LATER THAN

Rules from our documents and state law

Fill this in first, from your governing documents and any state statute. Where the two conflict, the statute can override the documents, so confirm with your attorney. Every date in the checklist depends on this.

RULE	WHAT OUR DOCUMENTS AND STATE LAW SAY	WHERE IT'S FOUND
Notice window: earliest and latest send dates
Delivery method(s) allowed
Quorum for the annual meeting
Proxies: allowed? how signed and returned?
Electronic or virtual meeting and voting
Other notes

1. Eight weeks out: confirm the rules and the room

- ☐ Confirm the date, time, and place, or the virtual format, against the bylaws.
- ☐ Pull the rules for notice, quorum, proxies, and voting from your governing documents and any state statute into the worksheet above.
- ☐ Book the room (or set up the meeting link).

2. Six to eight weeks out: call for candidates and decide how voting works

- ☐ Send the call for board candidates, with a deadline that leaves time to include their statements in the notice.
- ☐ Decide how voting will work: in person, by proxy, by ballot, or electronically where your documents and state law allow it.

3. Four to six weeks out: prepare the financials and draft the agenda

- ☐ Prepare the financial report.
- ☐ Prepare the proposed budget, where applicable.
- ☐ Draft the agenda (Section 03).

4. By your notice deadline: send the official notice

- ☐ Send the official notice (Section 02) with the agenda, candidate information, and any proxy or ballot, inside the notice window your documents and state law set. Some statutes set an earliest date, too.
 - ☐ Keep a record of what was sent, how, and when. You'll need it for proof of notice at the meeting.

5. Two weeks out: remind and track

- ☐ Send a reminder.
 - ☐ Track proxies or ballots received against the quorum you need.

6. Meeting week: set up and assign roles

- ☐ Print sign-in sheets and ballots.
 - ☐ Confirm who is counting votes (not a candidate).
 - ☐ Set up the room or test the meeting link. If hybrid, assign one person to run the technology.

7. After the meeting: close the loop

- ☐ Announce the results.
 - ☐ Update the board roster.
 - ☐ File the minutes.

A free planning resource, not CMGT's meeting process. CMGT offers this kit to help boards prepare for an annual meeting. It isn't the process CMGT uses to run meetings for the communities it manages, and it isn't legal advice. Confirm notice, quorum, proxy, and voting requirements in your governing documents and with your association's attorney.
